

Hello.

Our online show called #GrimmTales will be live-streamed on YouTube.

#GrimmTales is an adaption of some of the Grimm Tales stories.

You might know of them.

Ellie's story is based on the story of Cinderella.

It is set in modern day.

You will receive an email containing a link to watch the show 6 hours before the show.

The subject will look like this:

Starting in 6 hours: #GRIMMTALES (adapted by Hannah Treadaway) - Folio @ AUB

You will receive another email with the link 10 minutes before the show.

When it is time to watch the show, click on the link.

The link will start like this

<https://youtu.be/>

The link will take you to YouTube where you can see the performance

The screen will say “The performance is due to start.”

The performance will last between 60 and 90 minutes.

You can pause the show if you need to take a break.

You can press play to continue watching the show any time that evening.

There are eight actors.

Some of the actors play one character

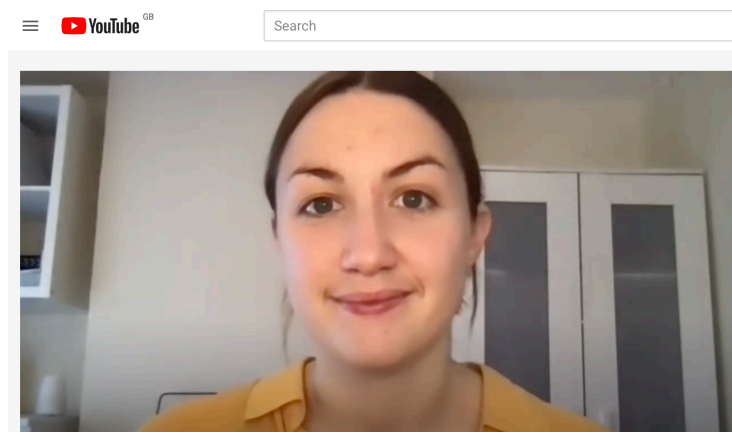

Some of the actors play more than one character.

For example, Ryan plays both Gio and Stella.

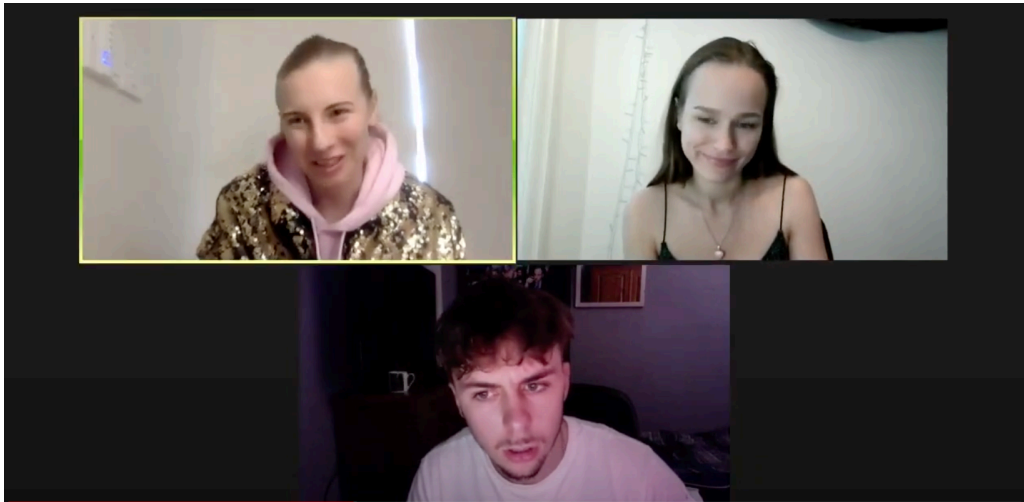

If you’d like to know more about the characters, there is a document on the website where you downloaded this file.

At the start of the play you will see a video introduction from each of the actors.

They will tell you about their appearance and costume, and who they will be playing.

Most of the time you will see between one and eight of the actors appearing as though they are in a Zoom call.

The show will use sounds and images we see on social media and on our phones.

For instance you might see a calling symbol like this:

At the end of the show you will be able to close the show by clicking the button you usually press to exit a screen.
